2012 SPARTANS

2012 Outlook

Cathy George

Despite graduating five seniors from last season, including All-American Jenilee Rathje, the Michigan State Spartans and head coach Cathy George are poised to build on a second round NCAA Tournament finish a season ago with strong leadership and a cohesive mix of young and veteran players.

George, in her eighth season at the helm of the Spartans, will look to capitalize on a strong spring season in which many players stepped up. MSU finished the spring with a 9-1 record and relied on Kristen Kelsay and Kori Moster for leadership after being voted off-season captains by their teammates and will also be co-captains in the upcoming season.

"Our team works extremely hard," head coach Cathy George said. "The focus is there, the desire is there and the commitment to our program is there all the way across the board. It started with the senior class last year, they were really driven coming into their senior year and they were able to, along with the underclassmen, establish a culture for our program.

Amy Dentlinger

"This group and our captains Kristen Kelsay and Kori Moster have taken it to another level in terms of how our team operates. We are prepared and everybody is very aware of their roles on this team and how to bring out the best in themselves, and others."

The Spartans advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament last season after beating Arizona, 3-1, before falling to No. 5 Texas, 3-0. MSU will rely on 11 returning letter winners, four incoming freshman and one transfer to make the trip back to the NCAA Tournament.

"We have huge expectations that we work together, that we work hard and that we take things one game at a time," George said. "We have an expectation that we all fill our roles and we do it to the best of our ability and make each other better. I believe that if we keep those things in place that good things will happen. We have to make sure that our foundation is solid and our core is strong. Our strength is in the sum of our parts, it isn't going to be one individual carrying the load for our offense or our defense."

Outside Hitter

Michigan State lost two of the most decorated players in program history in Jenilee Rathje and Kyndra Abron at the outside hitter position from last season. Among other honors, Rathje was named first team All-Big Ten and third team All-American, while Abron was an All-Big Ten honorable mention and a All-American honorable mention her sophomore year.

One player that could fill the void is Lauren Wiciniski, a Northern Illinois transfer, who will have two years of eligibility remaining and was a two-time All-American for the Huskies. Wicinski is available to play immediately for the Spartans and will add depth to the outside hitter position.

"She will be a very viable option for us," George said of Wicinski. "She joins as a junior and will immediately make an impact on our team. Lauren's power, experience and composure will be a welcome asset as we graduated three pin hitters from this past season. Lauren's unselfish, hardworking, competitive attitude will help balance our attack and give us much needed depth in those positions."

Senior Amy Dentlinger brings versatility to the position and will take on more responsibility this season after appearing in 19 matches last season. Dentlinger was a participant in the U.S. Women's National Volleyball A2 Program this past summer and brings the necessary experience to the court.

"Amy has the ability to play opposite or left side this fall," George said. "She has worked at both of those positions and I think the best is to come for Amy. She is ready to take over as a vital senior for us. She is welcoming and relishing that role. She has shown she is more than capable."

Sophomore Taylor Galloway will also play into the mix at the outside hitter position.

"Taylor has been playing left side for us and she did very well this spring," George said. "Taylor is a very well-rounded player. Her volleyball IQ is exceptional. She has tremendous ball control and passing ability, as well as all the shots in the book. She is able to use power but also finesse in order to score for us."

The Spartans welcome three freshman attackers in Maggie Halloran, Hadley Orr and Ebony Scott that each could see time on the court for MSU this season.

"We have four players coming in as freshmen," George said. "Ebony Scott is a tremendous athlete and reminds me a lot of Jenilee when she first came in. She hasn't had much experience. As we put time into her she is going to flourish and grow as player.

"Maggie Halloran has a lot of experience and she has played right side her club. She puts up a huge block and is very well versed in the game. Maggie has such a strong work ethic and calmness about her and we look forward to seeing her in the gym.

"Hadley Orr has been sidelined with a surgery since about a year ago," George said. "We are looking to strengthen her shoulder to see where she would fit into the mix this fall. Her defense has been her focus though and she has made great strides."

Middle Blocker

Alexis Mathews leads the charge for MSU at the middle blocker position and will look to be a force once again in her junior season. The Spartans will also look towards Kelsey Kuipers and Jazmine White in the middle this year.

Mathews was selected to the COBRA Magazine All-Preseason National team and was also selected to participate in the U.S. Women's National Volleyball A2 Program for the second summer in a row. She was a named to the COBRA Magazine All-Region First Team in 2011 and led the team with 155 blocks last season and was fourth in the conference with 1.27 blocks per set. Mathews is also second all-time in career blocks per set at Michigan State with 1.27.

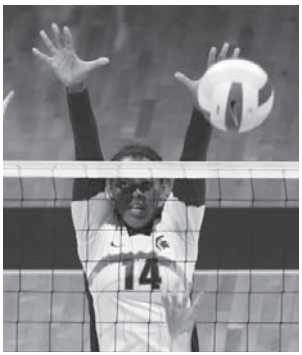
"I'm excited about how far Alexis has come," George said. "Every semester she is our most improved player. We know that Alexis has the ability to take over matches. She can dominate the net and she plays at a level that other people can't match her. She has improved her jump touch to 11 feet and if Alexis reaches high and plays high, there are not a lot of answers for her."

Jazmine White, a sophomore, started 17 matches for Michigan State last season and was fourth on the team in blocks with 66. Her role looks to be expanded this year.

"Jazmine has increased her vertical 3 inches," George said. "Jazmine plays with a real intensity out on the court and an uncanny awareness of how to win. We liked what we saw in the fall, and have seen her gain even more experience and versatility in her offense this last spring."



Jazmine White

Junior Kelsey Kuipers will also see time at the middle blocker position after coming off a strong spring season. She started in 17 matches last season for the Spartans and posted 80 kills along with 38 total blocks.

"Kelsey Kuipers is a fast athlete and a high jumper," George said. "This last spring her attack percentage was the highest on the team. She's able to use her athleticism to dominate offensively for us and I expect to see Kelsey showing more of what she can do this year."

Libero/Defensive Specialist

Michigan State is stacked at the defensive specialist slot and sophomore captain Kori Moster leads the way for Michigan State. She saw ample time at the libero position last season and is joined by seniors Chelsey Probst and Stefanie Shiramizu, along with sophomore Ryian Hubbard in the backcourt.

"Kori Moster is special," George said. "We really think that Kori is one of the best liberos in the country. We believe that it's not only in her play but it's in everything she does, her attitude and competitiveness. She is vital to our team and is a catalyst for our competitiveness."

Chelsey Probst is in her second season at Michigan State after transferring from Illinois Central College and appeared in five matches last season. She was also named to the Academic All-Big Ten Team last year.

"Chelsey just works her tail off and has really made a name for herself in our gym." George said. "She has been improving quite a bit."

Stefanie Shiramizu is also in her second season for the Spartans after transferring from Wright State. Last season she appeared in nine matches for Michigan State.

"Stefanie is a real competitor," George said. "She has a leadership quality, and is a vocal presence for the Spartans."

Sophomore Ryian Hubbard saw action in 15 matches last season as a defensive specialist for MSU and she recorded 17 digs on the season.

"Ryian is very fast and has a very quick reaction time," George said. "She has been versatile as well with her setting background in high school and is able to do some things that others can't do. Depending on what we need at a particular time, all three of them will see time out there and add to our team."

Setter

Junior captain Kristen Kelsay leads the way for MSU at the setter position. Last season she led the team in assists with 726 and was third on the team in service aces with 18. She was also recognized as a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar honored with the Harold & Raynor Shnider Office of the Provost Award that embodies the characteristics promoted by Student-Athlete Support Services, with emphasis on academic performance, community involvement and leadership ability.

"Kristen Kelsay is a true leader," George said. "Kristen has a way about her; she has brought herself up through the ranks with a good old-fashioned work ethic. From the time she was a little kid she has just done everything she could do to be the kind of player that she is today. She exudes that in her practice play and people want to follow her, people want to work with her and for her. She is going to find a way to make everyone better."

Freshman Halle Peterson will also see time at the setter position for the Spartans and brings a strong list of high school accolades to Michigan State. She was an All-American at Rockford High School, a 2011 Michigan Miss Volleyball Finalist and was All-State in 2010 and 2011.

"Halle reminds me a lot of Kristen," George said. "She is a tremendous setter and a tremendous volleyball player. She has great accuracy and location. I believe she is able to be a setter right now in the Big Ten. Its how comfortable, and how ready will she be to step into conference play. Kristen will work with her and take her under her wing. She will have a great mentor who will help develop her."

Coaching Staff

Cathy George

Head Coach • Eighth Season • Illinois State '85

Before arriving at Michigan State, Cathy George had already established herself as one of the more well-respected coaches in the nation. George has helped Michigan State return among the elite programs in the Big Ten Conference in her eighth season as head coach. George ranks 34th among active coaches for total wins in NCAA Division I volleyball with 486 victories. In addition, George ranks among the top 80 coaches all-time with a career .597 winning percentage. Every year, George has had her teams in the top-25 in annual attendance among all NCAA Division I teams, including a high of eighth in 2008 when the Spartans welcomed 36,419 total fans. George currently boasts a career record of 486-328, and is 121-104 while at MSU.

George has continued the tradition of excellence in the classroom at Michigan State as she has boasted 35 Academic All-Big Ten selections and six Big Ten Distinguished Scholars during her time.

The Spartans made their way back to the NCAA Tournament in 2011, the ninth trip for George and her fourth at the helm of MSU. Michigan State started the season with six straight wins and two tournament titles, winning the UCF Classic and the Spartan Showcase. MSU closed out the non-conference schedule by winning the Spartan Invitational and started off 11-1 before the beginning of conference play. The Michigan State seniors stole the show on Nov. 18, 2011 and propelled the Spartans to a 3-1 win against then-No. 7 Illinois. One of the largest crowds of the season at Jenison Field House witnessed one of the most thrilling matches of the season. Red-shirt sophomore Alexis Mathews, along with seniors Kyndra Abron, Jenilee Rathje and Becca Zlabis each tallied double-digit kills against the Fighting Illini. Rathje, one of the most decorated players in program history, was recognized as a third-team AVCA All-American and was a unanimous selection to the All-Big Ten First Team for the second straight season. Rathje finished her career first in sets played with 496 and second in matches with 142. She also ended her career seventh in block assists with 333 and eighth in kills with 1,504. Fellow senior Kyndra Abron was also named to the All-Big Ten team as an honorable mention and was named to the COBRA Magazine Midwest All-Region Team. Abron was joined on the COBRA Magazine Midwest All-Region Team by red-shirt sophomore Alexis Mathews.

The 2010 season once again saw the Green and White face one of the toughest schedules in the nation, as it played two of the 2009 NCAA semi-final teams over the course of the season. MSU opened up the year with its then seventh-straight MSU Showcase title before taking on the rigorous conference slate. The Spartans closed out the 2010 campaign by winning four of their last six matches, highlighted by an impressive 3-0 win over then-No. 19 Michigan on Senior Night, at the Breslin Center, before a record-setting crowd of 6,824. As a result of the 3-0 win, MSU regained the "State Pride Flag" for the first time since 2006, also the last time the Spartans topped U-M in straight sets. Red-shirt junior Jenilee Rathje became the 17th all-time in program history to amass 1,000-career kills as she tallied eight against Northwestern to wrap-up the year. Rathje earned unanimous first team All-Big Ten honors as well as being named an AVCA All-Mideast Region honorable mention selection. Also, junior Kyndra Abron was named to the COBRA Magazine Midwest All-Region Team while red-shirt freshman Alexis Mathews was an honorable mention selection.

In 2009, the Spartans once again earned a berth in the NCAA Tournament. MSU opened the campaign by winning its first 12 matches of the season, the third-best start to a year all-time and the best since the 1976 season. Along the way to the third NCAA Tournament appearance in the last four seasons, the Green and White posted upset wins over then-No. 12 Southern California in the opening match of the year, as well as then-No. 12 Illinois in the Big Ten home opener. Sophomore Kyndra Abron became the first sophomore in program history to be named an AVCA All-America, earning an honorable mention selection. Abron also was just the third Spartan to earn first-team All-Big Ten honors as a sophomore; the others were Val Sterk (1994) and Jenna Wrobel (1996).

After losing 64-percent of the total offense from 2007, George was able to bring in the No. 7 recruiting class in - the best in MSU history - to help shoulder some of the burden and void left by the graduating class. That recruiting class helped George compile a 15-16 overall record in 2008, despite playing five freshmen at a time for most of the season. It was clear that although the record did not reflect it, George may have had one of her finest years as a collegiate coach in 2008.

George spent the spring of 2008 coaching the USA A2 Red team to the USA Adult Open Championship. The USA A2 Red Team topped the University of Washington's Huskies VBC team, 3-1, in Atlanta. George and University of Texas head coach Jerritt Elliott, the A2 Blue coach, conducted training of 20 selected collegiate student-athletes before the championships and split the student-athletes into two teams for competition. George's A2 Red Team took home the gold, while the Blue team finished with the bronze. This was George's second stint with USA Volleyball as she was an assistant coach for the US team at the 1999 World University Games.

George had arguably her best season at MSU in 2007, guiding the Spartans to the NCAA Regional Semifinals and a fifth-place finish in the Big Ten. Overall, MSU went 21-14. The 2007 Spartans entered postseason play in consecutive seasons for the first time since 2002 and 2003. Under George's guidance, senior Ashley Schatzle became the Spartans' seventh AVCA All-American as she led the team that season with 553 kills.

George guided MSU to the 2006 NCAA Tournament in just her second year at the helm of the Spartan program. George led a rebuilding Spartan squad to a 19-12 overall record, including a 10-10 mark in Big Ten play. The Green and White made its first trip to postseason play since the 2003 campaign.

In George's first year as head coach, the Spartans finished the season with a 12-18 record, going 5-15 in conference action. George also saw three Big Ten Player of the Week honorees and two Third-Team 2006 ESPN Magazine Academic All-America Volleyball District IV Team members in 2005. Under George, heavy hitter Katie Johnson earned All-Big Ten Honorable Mention honors during the 2005 and 2006 seasons, fellow outside hitter Ashley Schatzle was named to the 2006 First Team All-Big Ten Team, and freshman middle blocker Vanessa King garnered 2006 All-Big Ten Freshman Team accolades. In addition, Johnson competed with the U.S. Women's National Volleyball A2 Program during the summer of 2007.

George was hired as the fifth coach in the history of Michigan State volleyball in December of 2004. George has earned conference coach of the year honors in every league in which she has coached before joining the MSU staff and the Big Ten Conference.

Prior to her hiring at Michigan State, George spent 11 years guiding the Western Michigan University program, where she compiled a 185-139 record. Taking over the reins at WMU prior to the 1994 season, George's Broncos qualified for eight NCAA Tournament appearances under her direction. George reached eight consecutive MAC Tournaments beginning with the 1997 campaign, and her Bronco squad made back-to-back MAC Tournament title match appearances in 1999 and 2000, capturing the title in 2000.

George's student-athletes at WMU earned all-conference and national honors while enjoying academic success as well. George reached the 300-win mark in 2000, and was named the MAC Coach of the Year that same season after guiding the Broncos to the MAC title. She has also gained international experience as an assistant coach for the 1999 U.S. Team in the World University Games, held in Mallorca, Spain.

Sixteen players earned academic all-conference honors during her time at Western Michigan, while four players were named to the CoSIDA Academic All-District team. Her teams posted grade-point averages of 3.00, or better, and boasted a 100-percent graduation rate in 10 of her 11 seasons.

On the court, George recruited high-caliber student-athletes, as three WMU players trained with various U.S. national teams. In 1999, two players were honored with the chance to compete with the Pan Am Games Training Team, while another Bronco was selected to the 2001 U.S. National A2 team. Western Michigan's success under George led to increased attendance, as the Broncos led the MAC in total attendance in eight of her 11 seasons. She also worked to reinstate the Bronco Spikers' Club, which takes part in activities involving the team throughout the year, including pre-match chalk talks, tailgates and post-match wrap-ups.

Prior to her arrival at Western Michigan, George was the head coach at Texas-Arlington from 1989-1993. She led UTA to the 1989 and 1990 NCAA Tournaments, with a school-record third-place national finish in 1989.

While at Texas-Arlington, George became the first woman to coach in the NCAA Division I Final Four (1989) and she earned Southland Conference Coach of the Year honors three times (1989, 1990, `92) as she posted a record of 93-74 in her five seasons. George's teams won Southland Conference titles in 1989, 1990 and 1992, were 37-4 in conference play (.902) and finished with a 10-2 record in postseason competition during her tenure.

George got her start as a collegiate coach at North Dakota State in 1987-88, leading the Bison to an 87-11 (.888) record in her first two seasons. In 1987, NDSU posted a 44-8 mark en route to a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Division II Championships in her first season as a head coach. She was named North Central Conference and regional coach of the year in both 1987 and 1988 and earned NCAA Division II National Coach of the Year honors in 1988. Also in 1988, George led the Bison to a 43-3 mark and a third-place national finish.

A 1985 graduate of Illinois State, George helped the Redbirds win three consecutive Missouri Valley Conference titles and NCAA Tournament appearances. A team captain and crafty outside attacker, she was a three-time All-MVC selection and earned all-region honors.

George, who earned her master's degree in education from Central Michigan in 1987, and her husband Jerry reside in Okemos, Mich., with their two sons, T.J., 20, and Conner, 15. T.J. is a sophomore pitcher on the baseball team at Grand Rapids Community College.

Russ Carney

Associate Head Coach • Eighth Season • Ball State '78

Russ Carney is in his eighth season at Michigan State following 11 years at Western Michigan, where he served as an assistant under head coach Cathy George. Carney was promoted to Associate Head Coach on June 19, 2008.

Carney focuses on recruiting and working with the blockers on the court for the Spartans. Last season, the Spartans made it back to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time during his tenure at MSU.

"Russ and I have worked so well together and had great success throughout the past 18 years," said George. "He and I worked together for 11 years at Western Michigan and I really feel that having that kind of continuity is a strength for the Spartan program. I believe we complement each other very well in our coaching styles. We are able to maximize different areas on the bench and in practice."

This past season, Carney assisted in the growth of Alexis Mathews as improved on her season high in blocks with 155 and was fourth in the Big Ten and 32 in the nation in blocks per set with 1.27 in 2011. The mark of 1.27 blocks per set is also second all-time in career history at Michigan State.

In 2010, then-freshman Alexis Mathews broke on to the scene for the Green and White as she led all Spartans with 127 blocks on the year, the fourth-best mark recorded by a freshman in school history, for a 1.27 blocks per set average, the third most in program history by a freshman. Mathews closed out MSU's home schedule with 12 blocks against Michigan, the most blocks ever recorded in a three-set match at MSU and the fourth most in all matches. As a result of her stellar season, Mathews was selected to represent USA at the USA Volleyball Open National Championships as a part of the U.S. National A2 Team.

Under the guidance of Carney in 2009, Kyndra Abron became the first sophomore in program history to be tabbed as an American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) All-Americn. Abron also earned All-Mideast Region honorable mention as well as first-team All-Big Ten honors. Also, former Spartan Vanessa King is a student-athlete who thrived under the tutelage of Carney. King ended her career ranked as one of the most efficient hitters in school history and was arguably one of the best middle blockers in the Big Ten in 2008. In fact, Carney was a prime reason that King was selected to the All-Big Ten First Team in 2008 and to the All-Big Ten Freshman team in 2006.

Carney's efforts do not stop on the court. Over the last several seasons, Carney has spearheaded the recruitment efforts at Michigan State. He played an instrumental role in assembling the top recruiting class in Michigan State history heading into 2008. He helped recruit Big Ten All-Freshman Team member Natalie Emro and 2009 AVCA All-American Kyndra Abron. He also helped in the signing of Becca Zlabis, who ranks among the MSU freshmen elite in several categories, Carli Weiler - the fourth-ranked libero prospect out of high school - and other additions to the Spartans roster. Those student-athletes, among others, are the reason that MSU's 2007 class was ranked as the seventh-best class in the nation and the top class in the Big Ten.

Carney also coordinates various other coaching duties throughout the season. Working with a state-of-the-art video system, Carney is in charge of scouting and video breakdown of opponents. Carney also helps the student-athletes by serving as the academic coordinator on the coaching staff.

A Tunkhannock, Pa., native, Carney started his collegiate coaching career as an assistant coach at Kellogg Community College in Battle Creek, Mich., in 1978. He assumed the head coaching duties at KCC in 1980 and promptly guided the Bruins to the National Junior College Athletic Association National Championship that year.

Carney went on to serve as an assistant coach at Wisconsin in 1981 before he was named head coach of the Badgers in 1982, where he remained until 1984. During his stint at Wisconsin, Carney served as head coach of the 1981 U.S. Olympic Festival Men's East Team, guiding that squad to the Gold medal. He was a member of both the NCAA Midwest Regional and Big Ten Conference officiating committees.

A setter in college, Carney attended Kellogg Community College (1973-74) before transferring to Ball State University (1976). He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from BSU in 1978.

Russ and his wife Sherry have a daughter, Jessica, 22, and a son, Branden, 19, who is a sophomore on the MSU hockey team, and reside in Battle Creek, Mich.

Mike Gawlik

Assistant Coach • Seventh Season • Pacific '05

Mike Gawlik begins his seventh season as an assistant coach and his eighth overall with the Spartan volleyball program. A four-year letterwinner and two-year captain at the University of the Pacific, Gawlik brings seven years of competitive coaching experience to George's staff.

Gawlik received a Master's in Athletic Administration from Michigan State University in 2011.

In February of 2010, Gawlik was named to the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) "Thirty Under 30" list. The award honors 30 up-and-coming volleyball coaches each year, who are under the age of 30, for their hard work and dedication to the sport of volleyball.

Gawlik currently serves as the liaison between the AVCA and the assistant coaches throughout the Big Ten Conference.

Gawlik's primary responsibility is the mentoring of the defensive specialists. As a back-court standout at his alma mater, Pacific, Gawlik has brought his experience and tenacity to Michigan State, both of which have seemed to rub off on the Spartans on the competition floor. He also assists with the blockers on the team and specializes as a defensive coordinator for the Spartan coaching staff.

In 2011, Gawlik helped the Spartans make it back to the NCAA Tournament for the fourth time during his career at MSU. He also assisted in the emergence of then-freshman Kori Moster as a defensive specialist and libero. Moster led the team in digs with 474 and in service aces with 31. She was named Big Ten Freshman of the Week three times last season and Big Ten Defensive Player of the Week once. Alexis Mathews led the team in blocks per set with 1.27 and as fourth in the conference as well. That mark is also good for second all-time in career history at Michigan State.

Gawlik has impacted many players and has been a primary reason for the Spartans' play on the back line, including that of libero Allyson Karaba (2007-10). After seeing scarce playing time during her freshman year as a walk-on, Gawlik helped the sophomore tally 518 digs on the season, second-most in a single season in school history. She also ranked third in single-season school history with 4.39 digs per set, and she did so with scoring being reduced from 30 points to 25 points per set. Karaba ended her career trailing only Nicole Colaluca on both lists, an athlete that Gawlik has also mentored in his time at MSU.

Gawlik is also very hands-on with each of the student-athletes, competing at practices and using his competitiveness to rally the team. Gawlik often times will train just as hard in practice as the current Spartans, showing a commitment to excellence and a passion for the game. Gawlik will also deal with compiling video and scouting other teams. He also takes time to e-mail and compile a volleyball newsletter each month, so MSU volleyball fans, alumni and parents can follow their Spartans on a regular basis.

"With the addition of Mike to our staff we really feel we can take our program to the next level," George said at the time of his hiring. "Mike has been involved with a wide range of coaching responsibilities during his career, and brings a bright and energetic presence to the bench. He has been very involved with our program's goals and expectations throughout his time at MSU, and I am excited to have such a high-caliber individual on our staff."

Prior to his current capacity at MSU, Gawlik served as a volunteer assistant where he contributed to practice planning, scouting of opponents, and the development of player skills and game preparation. He also plays a significant role as a member of the MSU summer camp staff, assisting with session planning and budget assessment.

Gawlik has coached at collegiate-level volleyball camps, including Michigan State and Nebraska. He also served as a head coach for the Sports Performance Volleyball Club Summer Camp from 2000-04. A four-year starter at the setter and libero positions for the University of Pacific, Gawlik was a 2003 Mountain Pacific Sports Federation All-Conference selection, was named a Strength and Conditioning All-American (2005), and earned the Student of the Year Award (2005) for sports science majors. He holds two school records, including career games played (382) and career digs (849).

Gawlik and his wife Katie reside in East Lansing, Mich..

Carli Weiler begins her first season with the Spartan coaching staff, serving as a volunteer student assistant coach after completing her senior season in 2011. She was a defensive specialist and libero at MSU from 2008-11 and will be a vital asset to the program.

Her knowledge as a player and familiarity with the program will bode well for Michigan State.

She appeared in every match last season for Michigan State and competed in 118 matches in her career. She was second on the team in digs with 264, her career high, and also had 52 assists and 19 service aces last season.

Weiler will assist with video scouting and analysis as well as statistics for the Spartans. She will also help with the tutelage of the defensive specialists and the liberos.

Robby Smith

Director of Volleyball Operations • First Season

Before his current role, Smith was an intern in the ticket office in 2011-12 and served as the Michigan State Director of Softball Operations during the 2010-11 season.

Smith also worked in the equipment room as a student and was a MSU basketball student manager from 2007-10. During that span, the Spartans won two Big Ten Championships and competed in the Final Four twice. Before that, he was a student manager for the MSU women's basketball team.

Smith graduated from Michigan State with a bachelor's degree in kinesiology, specializing in sport administration and is currently working towards a master's degree.

Lianna Hadden

Athletic Trainer • 15th Season

Lianna Hadden is in her 15th year on the MSU athletic training staff and her 13th year of working with the volleyball squad. Hadden, a native of Three Oaks, Mich., received her bachelor's degree in exercise science from Western Michigan University in 1998, with a minor in biomedical science and an emphasis in athletic training. She completed her master of science degree in kinesiology with a specialization in athletic training in 2000 at Michigan State.

"Lianna's knowledge on injury prevention, nutrition and her overall approach to the student-athletes is such an important aspect of our success," head coach Cathy George said. "She really has become like a family member to all of the athletes that have come through Michigan State."

Injuries are a part of sports – they come with any physical activity. The capable hands of the Michigan State sports medicine staff assist student-athletes with injuries incurred throughout their time of competition at Michigan State.

The philosophy of the Sports Medicine staff is two-fold: to help prevent injuries as much as possible through effective preventative programs, and to facilitate an effective rehabilitation program after an injury. In all cases, the ultimate well-being of each individual student-athlete is the top priority.

Hadden travels with the team to each away match and spends countless hours helping ensure the physical well-being of each player. With the ability to monitor each individual athletes needs, Hadden has developed into someone that both the student-athletes and coaching staff have come to trust and respect.

She is married to Brian Hadden, and the couple has five-year-old twins, Maeve and Asher.

Molli Munz

Strength and Conditioning

Molli Munz, M.S., C.S.C.S, USAW is the assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach for Olympic Sports. Molli is beginning her first year leading the strength and conditioning program for the Spartan volleyball team and has been a member of our Spartan Strength and Conditioning Staff since 2008.

Over the years, Coach Munz has gained a vast amount of knowledge and experience in strength and conditioning. Prior to her current position she served as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of Michigan. For two and a half years she oversaw the strength and conditioning programs for nine sports. Before she arrived at the University of Michigan, she spent a year as a strength and conditioning intern at The Ohio State University.

Molli earned her Bachelor of Science degree in health-fitness from Central Michigan University. While obtaining her degree, she competed as a member of the women's basketball team. She was a four year starter and two year captain. After Molli finished her basketball career, she got her start in strength and conditioning at Michigan State as a graduate assistant from 2002-2004. While working for the Spartans, she earned a Master of Science degree in Kinesiology.

Coach Munz will also work with the volleyball team throughout the summer to make sure that the team is in match-ready shape for the rigors of the Big Ten season.

The Spartan training program enhances explosive power and speed while reducing the incidence and severity of injuries. The strength staff's "neck-down" training and "neck-up" motivation provide the optimal environment to develop healthy, powerful, and determined athletes who have one focus – winning a National Championship.

Coach Munz runs a summer conditioning program that is next to none in order to prepare student-athletes for the physical demands of volleyball in the Big Ten Conference. Molli uses a state-of-the-art weight training facility that features some of the finest equipment around. With plenty of free weights and apparatuses, Molli is able to help student-athletes achieve new heights in strength and muscle tone, leaping and attack ability, along with adding great flexibility and improving recovery time.

Lou Anna K. Simon, PhD

President, Michigan State University

Lou Anna K. Simon was appointed the 20th president of Michigan State University by the MSU Board of Trustees in January 2005. An MSU graduate, she began her career at Michigan State as the assistant director of the Office of Institutional Research (now Office of Planning and Budgets) after earning her Ph.D. in 1974. From there, she moved into a variety of administrative roles, including assistant provost for general academic administration, associate provost, and provost and vice president for academic affairs; she served as interim president in 2003.

As president, Simon has engaged Michigan State University in a strategic and transformative journey to adapt the principles of the land-grant tradition to twenty-first century challenges. She has expanded MSU's reach in the state and around the world by focusing the university's strengths on solutions that enhance and protect quality of life: clean and affordable energy, access to education, safe and plentiful food, and health care. She recently outlined these commitments and the philosophy driving them in her monograph Embracing the World Grant Ideal: Affirming the Morrill Act for a Twenty-first-century Global Society.

Simon's key initiatives, particularly in economic development and international engagement, reflect her commitment to applying knowledge to benefit society and further the global common good. Simon is a member of the Council on Competitiveness, a nonpartisan, nongovernmental organization working to ensure U.S. prosperity, and serves on the Blue Ribbon Panel on Global Engagement of the American Council on Education (ACE). She serves on the National Higher Education Security Advisory Board, a group of presidents and chancellors of several prominent U.S. universities that consults regularly with national agencies responsible for security, intelligence, and law enforcement.

Simon's resolute commitment to advancing Michigan's economic future has been a hallmark of her presidency. She serves on the board of directors of Prima Civitas, mid-Michigan's economic development foundation; Business Leaders for Michigan; and the Detroit Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. In the area of international engagement, Simon is a member of the executive committee of the Partnership to Cut Hunger and Poverty in Africa.

Research at Michigan State University reflects Simon's commitment to advancing knowledge and improving quality of life in the world. Under her leadership, MSU has expanded its research in, among other areas, biofuels and green energy; medicine and medical technology; physics and rare isotopes; safe water; and agriculture to address world hunger. Through nearly $500 million annually in externally sponsored research, Simon is ensuring that Michigan State University makes a significant difference in the region, state, nation, and world.

Mark Hollis

Athletics Director

"We gather and engage our community to teach, support and celebrate our student-athletes in their quest for excellence."

This is the vision Mark Hollis has for the Michigan State Athletics Department. A Michigan State graduate and veteran Spartan athletics administrator, Hollis assumed the role of MSU's 18th athletics director on Jan. 1, 2008, succeeding Ron Mason.

Hollis has more than 20 years of athletics administration experience, either at the school or conference level. His well-rounded background has led to his knowledge of all areas within an athletics department, including marketing, financial administration, television negotiations, fund-raising, game operations, facility management, personnel policy, corporate interaction, sports management and public relations.

A 1985 MSU graduate, Hollis returned to his alma mater in 1995. Since then, he has been a critical component of the athletic department executive management staff, helping guide the department through short- and long-range plans. In addition, Hollis is chair of the Division I Amateurism Cabinet, a member of the NCAA's Men's Basketball Issues Committee and a member of the Division I Men's Basketball Committee.

Hollis' leadership guided the Spartans to another excellent year in 2011-12, and he was rewarded for his efforts by being named the 2012 Athletic Director of the Year by Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal/Daily.

The 49-year-old Hollis is credited with developing some of college athletics' most innovative events. It was his vision that led to Michigan State playing North Carolina in November 2011 in the first basketball game to be played on the flight deck of an aircraft carrier. In 2003, Hollis was the architect of the "BasketBowl," which established a then-world record crowd of 78,129 who witnessed the Michigan State-Kentucky game at Detroit's Ford Field. The concept, which involves placing the court in the center of a football stadium, has been used at the last four NCAA Final Fours.

In 2001, Hollis helped mastermind the Michigan State-Michigan outdoor hockey game that attracted a then-world record crowd of 74,554 in Spartan Stadium. As a result, the number of outdoor hockey games has steadily increased, and on Jan. 1, 2013, the NHL's Winter Classic comes to state of Michigan with the intent of breaking another attendance record.

On the playing field in 2011-12, Michigan State won three Big Ten Championships (women's cross country, men's basketball and women's golf), bringing the total to 15 conference championships since Hollis was appointed athletics director in 2008. In addition, the Spartan football team won the 2011 Big Ten Legends Division title and played in the inaugural Big Ten Championship Game. Michigan State became bowl eligible for a school-record fifth consecutive year and finished ranked No. 10 in the final USA TODAY Coaches Poll after tying the school single-season record with 11 wins, including a dramatic 33-30 triple-overtime victory over Georgia in the 2012 Outback Bowl.

The men's basketball team captured a share of the conference regular-season championship, won the 2012 Big Ten Tournament title, and advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 for the 10th time in the last 15 seasons. During Hollis' tenure, MSU has appeared in 15 consecutive NCAA Tournaments – the longest current streak among Big Ten schools and the third longest in the nation.

Often recognized for thinking outside the box, Hollis raised some eyebrows when he hired former CCHA Commissioner Tom Anastos as hockey coach in March 2011. In his first year behind the bench, Anastos led the Spartans to their first NCAA Tournament appearance since 2008.

Overall, nine sports participated in their respective team NCAA Championships, while individuals competed in five more NCAA Championships. The Spartan volleyball team advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2007, while the women's basketball team earned its fourth-straight trip to the NCAA Tournament. The women's cross country team placed 16th in the NCAA Championships – its best finish since 2008 – and the women's golf team reached the NCAA Championships for the eighth time in the past 13 years. Thirty-one members of the MSU track and field qualified for the NCAA Regionals, with seven advancing to the NCAA Championships. In addition, the women's rowing team made its 14th appearance in the 15-year history of the NCAA Rowing Championships and the baseball team earned a bid to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1979. The Spartans finished 34th overall in the 2011-12 Learfield Sports Directors' Cup standings.

During his tenure, Michigan State student-athletes have excelled not only in competition, but in the classroom as well. In the spring of 2012, the athletics department posted the highest grade-point average in program history with a 3.0644. It marks the third consecutive semester that student-athletes have posted better than a 3.0 cumulative GPA. The department also set another benchmark as 17 teams achieved a 3.0 or higher term GPA during the spring semester. Additionally, 241 student-athletes earned Academic All-Big Ten honors throughout the academic year, including 57 Big Ten Distinguished Scholars (min. 3.7 GPA).

Spartan athletic facilities have been upgraded at an unprecedented rate the past decade, and will only continue to improve under Hollis. This season, Spartan Stadium will have a remarkably different look with the addition of new scoreboards, giving Michigan State one of the top video board systems in the nation. The $10 million project features a 130-foot tall structure in the south end zone with a 5,300-square-foot video board; the previous board, which was installed in 1998, was only 567-square feet. There are two video boards in the north end zone, each measuring 1,750-square feet, in addition to a 4,500-square-foot LED ring (450 feet long and 10 feet high). The combined total for the south and north video boards is 13,300-square feet.

The Spartans moved into one of the nation's finest football facilities in August 2008, as a $15 million expansion and renovation project for the Duffy Daugherty Football Building was completed. MSU alumni Robert and Julie Skandalaris of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., donated $5 million as the lead gift for the facility expansion and upgrade. The Skandalaris Football Center includes new team, staff and position meeting rooms, coaches' offices and a hall of history. In addition, an expanded weight room was finished in September 2008 that increased the facility in size from 9,000 to 16,500-square feet.

Also in 2008, the men's and women's soccer programs opened DeMartin Stadium, a state-of-the-art 2,500-seat facility that enables MSU to host conference and national tournaments. The baseball program played its inaugural season in McLane Baseball Stadium in 2009 following a $4 million donation to the 2,500-seat ballpark by former Houston Astros owner Drayton McLane Jr. In 2011, with the help of a $1 million gift by alumnus Ambassador Peter F. Secchia – the largest cash (outright) gift received by an MSU women's intercollegiate sports program – Secchia Stadium, a 1,100-seat facility located at Old College Field, opened for the softball program.

In 2010-11, Michigan State had a record-setting year, winning five Big Ten Championships – the most in department history. The football team won a school-record 11 games and claimed the program's seventh Big Ten Championship en route to participating in the 2011 Capital One Bowl. The baseball team won its first Big Ten title since 1979, while the women's cross country, women's basketball and women's golf teams also won conference championships.

In 2009-10, the men's basketball team advanced to the Final Four for the sixth time in the last 12 years and won its second-straight Big Ten regular-season title, field hockey captured both the Big Ten regular-season and tournament championships, and the football team appeared in its third-straight bowl game.

One of Hollis' major goals upon becoming athletics director was accomplished in 2010 when he unveiled the new brand and identity program for the athletics department. All of Michigan State's uniforms now incorporate consistent use of colors, logos, lettering and numerals along with standardization for logos. Throughout the project, equal attention was devoted to maintaining an appreciation for the traditions of the past, while positioning the athletics program for the future. The brand and identity program for Michigan State Athletics was a result of nearly a two-year collaborative effort between the athletics department and Nike that included input from university and athletic administration, coaches and student-athletes. Michigan State was also selected to participate in the 2011 Nike Football Pro Combat system of uniforms, which the Spartans wore during their victory over Michigan on Oct. 15.

In Hollis' first full season as athletics director in 2008-09, Michigan State enjoyed one of its most successful years of the decade with a 27th-place finish in the Directors' Cup, the best showing for the department since 2003 and the third highest in the department's history. Ten teams earned bids to their respective NCAA Championships, led by men's basketball , which reached the national title game against North Carolina while also winning the Big Ten regular-season championship.

Hollis was named athletics director-designate on Sept. 12, 2007, and teamed with Mason in the transition throughout the fall of 2007. Prior to his official appointment as athletics director, Hollis played a lead role in two significant head coaching searches during the 2006-07 year. He spearheaded the effort to hire Mark Dantonio as football coach, which has resulted in five consecutive bowl appearances for the program and a Big Ten Championship in 2010. He also provided major assistance in the hiring of women's basketball coach Suzy Merchant in the spring of 2007, who led the Spartans to the Sweet 16 in 2009 and has brought MSU to four-straight NCAA Tournaments. Hollis' first hire as athletics director arrived on July 2, 2008, when he tabbed Jake Boss Jr. to direct the Spartan baseball program; in just three seasons, Boss won a Big Ten title in 2011, the first for the program in 32 years, then followed in 2012 by guiding MSU to the NCAA Tournament.

As a senior associate athletics director, Hollis oversaw all external relations for the MSU athletics department, including marketing and promotions, community relations, special event fund-raising, sports information, ticket operations, spirit groups, broadcast services and corporate sponsorships. In 2002, Hollis was named recipient of the National Marketer of the Year Award as selected by the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA).

On Oct. 13, 2005, Michigan State University and WJR - 760 AM announced a five-year agreement to carry Spartan football and men's basketball games, along with coaches' radio shows. The successful partnership led to the announcement on Jan. 19, 2010, of a 10-year extension through 2020. Hollis played a leading role in finding MSU athletics a home on the 50,000-watt Detroit radio station, known as the "Great Voice of the Great Lakes." The agreement has benefited more than just athletics as WJR regularly promotes the academic accomplishments of the university in addition to broadcasting sporting events.

Prior to returning to Michigan State, Hollis spent two years at the University of Pittsburgh as assistant and associate athletic director. Before his stint at Pitt, Hollis worked for the Western Athletic Conference. He joined the WAC as an administrative assistant immediately after college. Two years later, he was appointed assistant to the commissioner and soon thereafter was promoted to assistant commissioner.

Hollis earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in communication from Michigan State in 1985, where he served as a basketball team manager under Jud Heathcote. In 1992, he earned his MBA in business administration from the University of Colorado.

He and his wife Nancy, have a daughter, Katy, and two sons, T.R. and Michael.

Spartan Tradition

The Nickname

In 1926, Michigan State's first southern baseball training tour provided the setting for the birth of the "Spartans" nickname.

It all came about when a Lansing sportswriter imposed the silent treatment on a contest-winning nickname and substituted his own choice, the name that has lasted through the years.

In 1925, Michigan State College replaced the name Michigan Agricultural College. The college sponsored a contest to select a nickname to replace "Aggies" and picked "The Michigan Staters."

George S. Alderton, then sports editor of the Lansing State Journal, decided the name was too cumbersome for newspaper writing and vowed to find a better one. Alderton contacted Jim Hasselman of Information Services to see if entries still remained from the contest. When informed that they still existed, Alderton ran across the entry name of "Spartans" and then decided that was the choice. Unfortunately, Alderton forgot to write down who submitted that particular entry, so that part of the story remains a mystery.

Rewriting game accounts supplied by Perry Fremont, a catcher on the squad, Alderton first used the name sparingly and then ventured into the headlines with it. (Incidentally, after two days of spelling the name incorrectly with an "o", Mr. Alderton changed it to Spartan on a tip from a close friend.) Dale Stafford, a sports writer for the Lansing Capitol News, a rival of the State Journal, picked up the name for his paper after a couple of days. Alderton called Stafford and suggested that he might want to join the Spartan parade and he did.

As Mr. Alderton explains: "No student, alumnus or college official had called up the editor to complain about our audacity in giving the old school a new name, so we ventured into headlines with it. Happily for the experiment, the name took. It began appearing in other newspapers and when the student publication used it, that clinched it."

Sparty

"The Spartan" statue, designed and produced by MSU assistant art professor Leonard D. Jungwirth, has a permanent home inside the atrium of the Spartan Stadium tower. The 9-foot-7 ceramic figure weighs approximately 6,600 pounds, including its base. In 2005, the sculpture was relocated to protect it from the elements.

"The Spartan" was dedicated on June 9, 1945, at the intersection of Red Cedar Road, Kalamazoo Street and Chestnut Road. Popularly known as "Sparty," the statue remains one of the favorite photo subjects of campus visitors.

In 2005, an exact replica of the original terra cotta sculpture - now cast in bronze - took up residency on the plaza located at the north end of Demonstration Hall Field. The molds for the bronze statue were made from the original sculpture. The new statue was cast in bronze at the Artworks Foundry in Berkeley, Calif.

As part of MSU' sesquicentennial celebration, the bronze "Sparty" was dedicated on Oct. 8, 2005. Donors contributed approximately $500,000 to pay for all work related to the new sculpture, including the plaza.

Sparty Mascot

Michigan State's beloved Sparty has won three national championships at the Universal Cheer Association's mascot competition at Walt Disney World in Orlando, Fla.

In March 2008, Sparty was selected to appear on the cover of NCAA Football 09 for Nintendo Wii. EA Sports conducted an online poll, asking college football fans to vote and determine which college mascot would have the honor of being depicted on the game's cover. Fans went online and cast more than 700,000 votes and Sparty one a tightly contested race, beating out mascots from Central Florida, Washington State, Auburn, LSU, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa State, Alabama and Penn State.

In January 2004, Sparty became the first Big Ten mascot to claim the national title, and in 2005, he defended his national championship, beating Goldy Gopher and Bucky Badger in the finals. After finishing third in the 2006 competition, Sparty reclaimed the national championship in 2007.

Made of hi-tech materials, including a vinyl chest plate and fiberglass molds like the ones used for making Muppets, the seven-foot costume weighs in at 40 pounds, allowing enough flexibility for playful gestures and animation. Sparty is a far cry from the many papier-mache heads that have popped up since the 1950's, mostly from fraternity efforts. The first official one apparently debuted in 1955 courtesy of Theta Xi.

Other versions were introduced at times. In 1984, Sigma Phi Epsilon introduced the first "gruff" head — sporting the unshaven look that still adorns many sweatshirts and jackets. By contrast, the current Sparty costume is a state-of-the-art, full-bodied uniform that costs $12,000.

Today six students — their identities kept private — take turns being Sparty with one of three costumes. Because of the costume size, Sparty aspirants must be between 5-10 and 6-2 in height. Candidates who fit the physical needs are chosen after a hands-on process that includes tryouts and interviews. The Sparty Mascot Program is run and funded by the Student Alumni Foundation.

Green & White

Details are sketchy as to when Michigan State athletic teams officially began using the school colors green and white. But records of the Athletic Association of the then Michigan Agricultural College show that on April 11, 1899, the organization took steps toward adoption of a green monogram, "to be worn only by athletes who subsequently take part in intercollegiate events."

It is generally thought the colors came into wide use with the arrival in 1903 of Chester L. Brewer as the school's first full-time director of athletics. Brewer also coached the football, basketball, baseball and track teams, the only varsity units in existence at the time.

MSU Fight Song

On the banks of the Red Cedar,
There's a school that's known to all;
Its specialty is winning,
And those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
All through the game they'll fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Go right through for MSU,
Watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
They're fighting with a vim.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
See their team is weakening,
We're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.

MSU Athletics Hall of Fame

On Oct. 1, 1999, Michigan State University unveiled its new Athletics Hall of Fame during Homecoming weekend. Located in the Clara Bell Smith Student-Athlete Academic Center, the $250,000 Hall of Fame displays key moments in Spartan athletic history as well as plaques of the 97 current inductees. The charter class of 30 former Spartan athletes, coaches and administrators was inducted in 1992.

Michigan State University will induct six members into its Athletics Hall of Fame on Thursday, Sept. 20, as part of the "Celebrate 2012" weekend. The Class of 2012 includes: Carl Banks (football), Emily Bastel (women's golf), Clinton Jones (football/track), Shawn Respert (basketball), Diane Spoelstra (women's basketball/softball/volleyball) and George Szypula (men's gymnastics coach).

Jenison Field House

The Michigan State volleyball team has played nearly all of its home matches in historic Jenison Field House since 1993. Built in 1940, Jenison was the home of Spartan basketball until 1989 and is where Magic Johnson helped lead Michigan State to its first NCAA Championship in 1979.

Jenison, which is currently the home to the main Spartan athletic department administrative offices, as well as MSU volleyball, women's gymnastics, wrestling and men's and women's track & field, underwent extensive renovations in 2001. The volleyball facilities were improved to include a large new locker room, an expanded training room, a larger weight room and an improved equipment room. The building also houses locker rooms for baseball, women's crew, field hockey, soccer and softball.

For volleyball, the court runs north and south to accommodate 5,017 fans. Beginning with the 2006 season, seating is available on all four sides of the court, including a special section of courtside seating.

Prior to the start of the 2011 season, MSU renovated Jenison Field House by installing retractable bleachers around the entire floor, featuring chair back seating on the east and west ends. Jenison also received a new paint job and new banners in the rafters with new lights. Also, a state-of-the-art video board was installed on the north end of the building, allowing for instant highlights and pre-match announcements for all Jenison events. The sound system in Jenison received updated equipment to better serve the occupants.

MSU has hosted NCAA Tournament games in 1995, 1996, 1998 and 2003. Jenison Field House features a wooden playing surface that saw its first action during the 2005 season. Fans attending Spartan volleyball matches are treated to a truly spectacular event. Fans can also get into the action with "Ace" and "Roof" cards that are distributed at the door.

The Spartan Side Out Club, the official booster club of Spartan volleyball also attends games at Jenison, holding sales of Spartan gear to help raise funding for the Spartans. Side Out Club members line the court on match day and provide support for the Spartans at Jenison.

Each year, Jenison Field House plays host to one of collegiate volleyball's finest tournaments, the Spartan Showcase, which is now in its eighth season. The Spartans won their seventh-straight Spartan Showcase last season after topping St. Johns, Cleveland State and Toledo. This year, the Spartans will host two tournaments - the Spartan Showcase and the Auto-Owners Insurrance Spartan Invitational. Michigan State will open the home schedule with the Showcase when they welcome McNeese State, Youngstown State and Eastern Kentucky. The Invitational will boast the lineup of IPFW, Albany and Georgia.

Clara Bell Smith Center/SASS

In 1997, Steve Smith, a former MSU basketball All-American, 14-year NBA veteran and member of the 2003 NBA Champion San Antonio Spurs, donated $2.5 million toward the construction of the Clara Bell Smith Student Athlete Academic Center. This donation, in memory of his mother, Clara Bell Smith, is the largest gift ever by a professional athlete to any college or university. The donation helped fund the construction of the $7.5 million facility, a comprehensive study center for student-athletes.

The two-story, 31,000-square foot Smith Center serves over 700 student-athletes in all of MSU's Division I sports. It also houses a 210-seat auditorium, a "hall of fame" gallery, two study halls, 60 computers split between two computer labs, structured study areas, a student lounge, a conference room, four classrooms, tutoring rooms, a director's office, academic advisor offices and a reception area.

Amenities include:
- Structured study area
- Quiet study areas
- Computerized check-in system
- 10 individual meeting rooms
- Multicultural Center
- Two staffed computer labs
- 64 computers
- Four classrooms
- All rooms equipped with wireless internet access
- 210-seat multimedia auditorium

A Look at MSU Student-Athlete Support Services

Academic, personal, and professional support is essential to college success. At Michigan State University, Student-Athlete Support Services helps student-athletes reach their full potential.

Our philosophy is to offer an academic support program that will assist all student-athletes with the transition to college and integrate with the total university. This all-encompassing support continues throughout the student-athlete's collegiate career, until the day he or she receives a diploma, lands a job, or enters graduate school.

Academic counseling, career exploration, planning and placement, and academic assistance through tutorial programs are just some of the ways we encourage student success.

Being proactive rather than reactive, our staff does not wait for an academic crisis to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on each student-athlete, assessing his or her needs in advance. We also stay informed on the daily progress of each student-athlete.

Freshmen and transfer student-athletes encounter a major transition when making the switch from high school or community college to a university. These students, while adjusting to their new routines, receive extra attention and support.

College is not easy. But with hard work and dedication from both the student-athlete and the support staff, the student-athlete can have a successful college experience.

The staff members assist in and work with the following:
- Priority registration
- Track academic progress
- Monitor grades
- Conduct weekly meetings with freshmen
- Conduct eligibility meetings
- Learning Specialists Services

Big Ten Network

Headquartered in Chicago, the Big Ten Network is the first internationally distributed television network dedicated to covering one of America's premier collegiate conferences.

The network is available to an estimated 75 million households, through agreements with more than 300 cable, satellite and telco affiliates in all 50 states and Canada. The Big Ten Network is a joint venture between subsidiaries of the Big Ten Conference and Fox Cable Networks.

The Big Ten Network is on the air 24 hours per day, 365 days a year. The network annually televises more than 350 live events and streams an additional 300+ events. Each year's schedule is comprised of approximately 35-40 football games, 105 regular season men's basketball games, Big Ten Men's Basketball Tournament games, 55 women's basketball games, Big Ten Women's Basketball Tournament games, hundreds of additional Olympic sports events and dozens of Big Ten championship events.

Above and beyond the network's 350 televised events, the network streamed more than 300 events across 15 sports in 2009-10 and that number is expected to grow in future years. These games are available live and on-demand on the Big Ten Network's website.

State Pride Series

Michigan State and Michigan share a long history of rivalries, both in academics and athletics. Beginning in 1990, the two state of Michigan Big Ten Conference institutions began a "State Pride" season series to celebrate the in-state rivalry. Each University hosts a "State Pride Night" when the teams meet during the regular season. A state of Michigan flag bearing the motto "Tuebor" or "I will defend," serves as a symbol of the volleyball rivalry with the winner of the season's face-to-face matches retaining possession of the flag for a year. The flag flew over the State Capitol on Sept. 18, 1990. In addition to the State flag, each school's winning year is listed on its half of a special Michigan State-Michigan banner.

- The school that wins both matches will be declared the "State Pride" winner.
- If one team does not win both matches, the school that wins the greatest number of games will be declared the "State Pride" winner.
- If both teams have won the same number of games, the school with the most total points is the "State Pride" winner.
